Governor Martin Inaugural To Be Simple Ceremony

No Pageantry To Accompany Induction Into Office Of Governor Tuesday

CROWDS OF FORMER DAYS TO BE MISSING

By JOHN PAGET
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 18.—Simple but precise ceremonies will mark the inauguration of Gov. Martin tomorrow as the commonwealth's governor for the next four years.

An 18-minute radio address by the new chief executive will be broadcast over a state-wide network seven minutes after the ceremony. Gov. Martin will be escorted to the capitol by the mounted police and the mounted auxiliary of the Dauphin County Sheriff's Office.

Pageantry Missing
Only the essentials necessary for the occasion have been scheduled. The pageantry that highlighted the 34 preceding inaugurations has been abandoned because of the war. Even the parade, which was the high water mark of party followers' participation in the ceremonies, has been eliminated.

Martin and retiring Gov. Arthur H. James will travel from the executive mansion, three blocks from the state capitol, in an automobile instead of the horse-drawn barouche that was used for years. The inaugural committee was unable to locate the carriage. They will be escorted by mounted state police and the mounted auxiliary of the Dauphin County Sheriff's Office.

To Be Sworn In
Martin, adjutant general in Governor James' cabinet, will be sworn into office by Chief Justice George W. Maxey of the state supreme court. A small Bible that Martin carried through three wars will be used for the ceremony. A 19-gun salute to the 63-year-old chief executive will be given by a light artillery detachment from the nearby Indianopolis Gap military reservation where he commanded the 28th "Iron" division during its encampment there two years ago. PA NEW OBSERVES

There appeared to be considerable increase in auto traffic in city over the week-end, as compared with that of the previous week-end.

Driving conditions early this morning, were extremely difficult. In addition to being foggy, a light mist fell from fog, making streets and sidewalks very treacherous in spots.

Remember—
It Takes Both
WAR BONDS AND TAXES
To Win Victory

There are evidently quite a lot of auto drivers that believe that decrease in traffic has eliminated the "left turns at Mill and Washington streets. Pa. News has noted four or five such turns in the past week, while waiting for the bus at this corner.

Moderating weather over the week-end eliminated some of the thousands of large icicles that were noted hanging from homes and buildings all over the city.

The icy conditions of the sidewalks on Friday and Saturday brought out at least one pair of "creepers" that we know of. Creepers are spiked sole contrivances.

Five Japanese Ships Sunk Or Damaged In Rabaul Attack

By LEE VAN ATTA
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS, Jan. 18.—American Flying Fortresses, raining tons of demolition and fire bombs on the big Japanese base at Rabaul, New Britain, in a four-hour night raid, sank or seriously damaged five enemy merchantmen, it was announced officially today.

Penetrating a thick curtain of anti-aircraft fire, the Boeings accounted for 25,000 tons of shipping in the harbor and left pillars of fire blazing on the enemy airdrome visible 50 miles away.

American and Australian ground forces at Sanaanda, meanwhile, brought the fall of that last remaining Jap Papuan stronghold nearer by smashing through to the enemy's rear to cut the main supply road to two places, the communiques from CAIRO, Jan. 18.—Britain's Eighth Army, advancing swiftly in pursuit of Nazi General Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's Afrika Korps, lunged forward today to stab at Axis rear guard forces 80 miles northwest of Buerat El Hsu.

The new advance against the fleeing Axis forces marked a gain of 30 to 40 miles by Eighth Army units under command of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery from Sedada Bir Tala, 130 miles southeast of Tripoli. The middle east headquarters of Gen. Sir Harold R. L. G. Alexander disclosed that Eighth Army forces, after occupying Sedada, quickly followed up the enemy forces retreating to the northwest and reached the vicinity of Taouira Bir and Dufan Beni Uid.

The latter point lies about 40 miles northwest of Sedada. Capture of Dufan Beni Uid would place

BOARD MAY GIVE CASE TO PRESIDENT

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The War Labor Board today voted unanimously to turn over to President Roosevelt the 20-day-old strike of the Pennsylvania anthracite mine workers. A committee of six WLB members will confer with White House representatives this afternoon and recommended that President Roosevelt make a stern public demand, backed by all his wartime powers, that the strikers return to the pits.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Openly defied by thousands of Pennsylvania hard coal miners who refused to end a 20-day walkout, the war labor board today was expected to carry the case to the White House and ask President Roosevelt to use army troops to put down the strike. Meanwhile, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers' Union, who also was being defied by the recalcitrant strikers, stood ready to banish the leaders of the walkout from the union. Lewis already has branded the strike as illegal and warned the miners to "cut out the foolishness."

Lewis' Undecided
Lewis, at latest reports, was undecided whether he personally would go to Wilkes-Barre, Pa., the strike center. At the hearing Friday when the WLB ordered the miners to go

London Has Two Air Raids During Night

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The long blast of London's air raid sirens twice moaned out the news that enemy aircraft were overhead during the night, turning the city of millions into a deserted village.

A second between the first alert London's streets had their usual Sunday night carnival appearance as thousands of American and British soldiers and girls streamed out of movies and restaurants. The painful sigh of the siren sent them in orderly retreat to safety.

Overhead a sky moon lit a sky punctuated by brilliant spasms of ack-ack fire. Against the background of loud, angry bursts from England's newest-type anti-aircraft

German Forces Caught In Trap

Completely Cut Off From All Help Except What Planes Can Bring

HOLD 60,000 RUSSIANS IN TRAP AS HOSTAGES

By SAMUEL GUREVICH
Reuter's Correspondent With the Red Army

(Distributed by International News Service)
WITH THE RED ARMY IN THE KOTELNIKOV SECTOR, Jan. 16.—(Delayed)—Russian forces today are smashing what little resistance is left of Hitler's estimated 22 divisions trapped at Stalingrad. The only airdrome left to the Germans caught in a 250 square mile pocket is being systematically shelled by Russian big guns recently brought to within range.

Inside the cast ring, the Nazi and Russian troops are holding 60,000 Russian civilians as hostages, and many are dying of starvation.

The hostages and the shattered Axis divisions, cut off from all supplies except those flown in by plane or dropped by parachute, are receiving only a small bread ration daily, according to prisoners taken by the red army.

Completely Cut Off
Completely cut off from help, the enemy force now finds itself 250 miles from the nearest German armies.

Gen. Rodion Malinowski, commander of Soviet forces southwest of Stalingrad, explained today that "theoretically, the trapped remnants, quite apart from the civilian hostages, require at least 100 tons of food a day to stave off starvation and they are not receiving anything like that."

"According to our latest information," the commander revealed, "the bread ration has been cut to 100 grams a day."

Lieut. Col. Tarantsev of the Russian general staff, accompanying correspondents, declared that "wiping out of those remnants could be accomplished in a very short time, or it could take longer."

"We are only employing sufficient forces to prevent the Germans from breaking out," he said, "and we are gradually squeezing the ring tighter."

German transport planes based at Salsk, it was revealed, have been flying in food and ammunition and taking out some wounded men and important staff officers.

Eight villages lie within the encircled pocket, as well as five railroad stations and the one lone airdrome.

"The trap," said Col. Tarantsev, "must be regarded as a miracle. The German command didn't believe the Soviets were capable of such classical encirclement."

New Castle firemen honored their comrades who have passed on during the year at their annual memorial service Sunday evening, which took place in the Second U. P. church, with a large attendance, both of men from the department and the public.

Rev. J. Calvin Rose, pastor of the church, delivered a splendid sermon, paying tribute to the unselfish service rendered by these valiant city employees, preaching from the text, "Life Savers."

A mixed quartet from the choir sang the Firemen's Memorial prayer in addition to other special numbers, during the service.

Those who have died during the year who were honored at this service were: William J. Quinn, William Book, Edward A. Hennon, Franklin Reed Weimer, Wesley G. Edwards and David R. Bollard.

Second Attack In 24 Hours Is Made On Berlin

Huge Loads Of Bombs Are Dropped On German Capital In Raids

POSSIBLY 500 R. A. F. PLANES IN ATTACK

By WILLIAM WADE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Jan. 18.—A strong force of British bombers blasted Berlin for the second time within 24 hours during the night and dropped a "great load of bombs" which left the German capital ablaze with large fires, the air ministry announced today.

The official German news agency, DNB, claimed that the R. A. F. lost 24 planes in the course of the bombardment. Should this figure be borne out by the air ministry it would indicate, on the basis of average percentage losses heretofore, that a possible raiding force of 500 took part.

Lose 22 Planes
The Royal Air Force lost 22 of its huge planes in the bombardment, indicating that a force of possibly 500 participated. Only one British plane was lost in the Saturday night attack.

Loss of 22 planes was not considered disproportionate in view of the scale of attack, absence of the element of surprise, reappearance of a strong force of German night fighters and the presence of bright moonlight.

The largest planes in the British arsenal, Lancasters, Stirlings and Halifaxes, reappeared over the German city before the fires started in the previous night's raid died out and while rescue workers still were searching for victims among the debris.

German Reply
German air force planes replied to the British attack on Berlin by making two feeble attempts to strike at London. They never reached the heart of the city because of the terrific barrage sent up by new-type anti-aircraft guns. Some bombs fell in the London suburbs and points on the southeast coast were attacked.

The air ministry said that it (Continued On Page Two)

Jap Aerial Units Resume
Attacks Upon U. S. Air
Base At Guadalcanal

YANKS KEEP UP
JAP BASE ATTACKS

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—American and Japanese airmen today are seeking to knock out each other's landing fields in the Solomons amid signs that another large scale battle is brewing in the south Pacific.

Newly arrived Japanese aerial units have carried out three raids in two days against the U. S. airfield on Guadalcanal, the first assaults in such force since the Jap defeat in November.

Although the navy admitted some damage and casualties in the recent enemy raids, they failed to prevent American pilots from continuing their offensive against the new Jap airfield on New Georgia island, 180 miles northwest of Guadalcanal.

On land, American forces continued to advance slowly, but Japanese resistance was reported stiffening despite the fact that the enemy garrison on Guadalcanal has been cut off from supplies for weeks.

Raids On Guadalcanal

The third of a series of Jap raids on Guadalcanal was made during the evening of Jan. 15 and minor material damage and some casualties were reported.

The following day twin-engine U. S. Marauder bombers escorted by fighter planes retaliated with another raid against the Jap airfield at Munda on New Georgia island.

No details were reported, but the navy said that a number of hits were scored in the target area.

The American aerial offensive, which has been underway for weeks, has failed to prevent the Japanese from strengthening their positions in the central Solomons.

Several attempts have been made by the Japanese recently to sneak reinforcements and supplies to their isolated forces on Guadalcanal but all have met with failure at the hands of speedy American torpedo boat crews and bomber pilots.

There has been no action between Japanese and American warships since November but new battles probably are in the offing. Navy men anticipated another Japanese sea-borne thrust against Guadalcanal in the near future.

SECOND ATTACK IN 24 HOURS IS MADE ON BERLIN

German fighter planes challenged the British raiders and numerous dogfights occurred. One Nazi fighter was reported destroyed.

Planes of the British fighter command acted as "in-rudder" patrols over Nazi airbases on the continent to keep as many planes as possible on the ground during the heavy assault on Berlin.

Attacks also were made on Axis transport facilities in France, Belgium and Holland.

Berlin Admits Assault

Berlin admitted the renewed assault on the capital. The German radio asserted that the British fleet over the Baltic Sea and added that "some reached greater Berlin and bombed residential quarters at random."

It was claimed by the Nazis that 24 British planes were shot down. They were met by strong anti-aircraft fire. The Nazis said. In the Saturday night assault the British fighters were happily surprised by the seemingly small amount of anti-aircraft fire with which they had to cope.

At least 10 of the small number of Nazi planes which attacked England were shot down. Numerous others were reported damaged.

Reprisals On London

Londoners scoffed at the "midnight" reprisal attacks attempted by the Nazi against the British capital. Some bombs were dropped on the outskirts but the German fighters never reached the center of the city. The southeast coastal area felt the crash of Nazi bombs but little damage and few casualties were reported.

Between the two enemy raids on the southeast of England and the flight of British bombers to and from the continent there was hardly a moment during the night that aircraft could not be heard overhead along the English coast.

The Germans used between 25 and 30 planes in each of their two reprisal attacks against England last night. Only a very few penetrated the outer defenses of London and as an attempt to reply to the British attacks on Berlin, the German air force effort was regarded as completely ineffective.

FIVE JAPANESE SHIPS
SUNK OR DAMAGED
IN RABAU ATTACK

General Douglas MacArthur announced. Killing 122 enemy defenders, the Allied jungle fighters occupied road positions at points 1,000 and 2,000 yards from the beach.

Reuter's quoted Gen. Sir Thomas Blamey, Australian ground force commander, as saying that Japanese losses in naval personnel that were relieved by the Japanese army "exceeded all losses in battle, in which his army was not only defeated but was practically exterminated."

Estimate 15,000 Japs Killed

General MacArthur has estimated that 15,000 Jap troops were killed in Papua during the Bonaparte campaign. General Blamey's statement, contained in a Melbourne dispatch, would bring the total ground and sea losses of the Japs to more than 30,000.

General Blamey was quoted as adding that the "remaining Japanese in Papua have been driven to a corner and will be liquidated gradually."

The Japanese retaliated yesterday for Saturday's smashing raid on Rabaul, in which no Fortresses or escorts were lost, by attacking Milne Bay, scene of Japan's first land reversal in the southwest Pacific.

Twenty-four Mitsubishi bombers, escorted by 20 Zeros, struck at the Allied airbase in the heaviest raid the Japs have made in several months.

Damage was declared to be negligible, however, and the raiders withdrew when Allied fighters challenged them to battle.

During the week-end, Liberators of Lieut. George C. Kenney's command ranged over a wide area, bombing Jap bases scattered from Ambona Island, in the northwest to Gasmat and Cape Gloucester, on New Britain.

HARD COAL MINERS STILL ON STRIKE

back to work, one strike leader told Lewis that he could end the walkout by going into the strike area and making just one speech.

Lewis explained that he had not gone into the hard coal fields earlier for fear his presence there might inflame the situation. But now he was caught squarely in the middle. His leadership was being questioned by his own rank and file, and a wave of public resentment was welling up against him even though he personally wanted to end the dispute and get the mines working again.

Chief issues of the strike comprised the miners demands for a $2-a-day wage increase and their protest against an increase in union dues from $1 to $1.50 a month. The dues increase was voted by the recent international convention of the union at Cincinnati, and Lewis was powerless under the UMW constitution to rescind the action.

Vote On Sunday

The miners spent a dreary Sunday in the coal fields voting on the question of whether they should return to work. Although UMW Secretary-Treasurer Thomas Kennedy estimated that only between 10,000 and 11,000 miners actually were idle, it was reported from Pennsylvania that well over 11,000 had voted to remain on strike. Estimates from the field placed the number of men engaged in the walkout at more than 23,000.

But the "no-strike" policy of all of union labor was being flaunted and persons close to the war labor board, which already is bogged down under thousands of cases, said that its effectiveness in the future would be endangered unless drastic action was taken.

William H. Davis, chairman of the WLB, said that all of the authority of the U. S. government would be used to see that the board's return to work order is obeyed. Many mine union leaders lamented the fact that the board had intervened at all. They reported that the rank-and-file miners resented the return to work order and cemented their stubbornness to stay with the strike.

To date the strike has cost the production of more than 500,000 tons of coal and it was called at a time when there existed a fuel shortage all along the eastern seaboard.

Showdown Reached

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Jan. 18.—A showdown was reached today in the strike of more than 23,000 Pennsylvania hard coal miners as a majority of the strikers voted to continue the walkout in defiance of a war labor board ultimatum ordering them back to work.

The next step in the controversy may be direct intervention by President Roosevelt as there have been intimations that if the strike did not come to an end today troops might be ordered into the hard coal fields to get the mines back into production.

In the strike vote, more than 11,000 of the 23,000 striking miners flatly voted to remain idle, while several more thousand indicated their sympathy with this stand by not voting at all.

Mr. Rainier, Washington, is 14-408 feet high. Stands approximately 11,000 feet above its immediate base, and covers 100 square miles of territory, approximately one-fourth the area of Mount Rainier National park.

The halibut matures at about 12 years of age, when it reaches about 20 pounds in size. This would be a small halibut, however, as they attain a size of 200 to 300 pounds and halibut weighing 400 pounds have been landed. The largest halibut on record was 825 pounds.

FAITH
AMEN! MESEALL!

Especially so, in regard to Ohio's Daylight Savings Time. Ohio is up and going, got the guts to say what they think and put it in force, if possible. Not only are they going to get rid of Daylight Savings Time, because it is a menace, but they do a lot of other things.

We often wonder why in Ohio you meet so many people who formerly lived in New Castle, while employed, but when they retire on pension, moved over to Ohio, because taxes are about one-third less there, and they could live very comfortably on their pension. That gets people, and you must have people in order to make business.

St. Paul's Church To Use English In All Services

Announce Services In German Language Are Banned For
Duration Of War

For almost 95 years, St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church at North Jefferson and Grant streets, Rev. A. M. Stump, pastor, more commonly known to local residents as the German Lutheran church, has preached the gospel in the German language.

Originally conducting all its services and Sunday school in that language until about the beginning of this century when the Sunday school became entirely English and some of the church services were conducted in the English language, and during the present pastorate since May, 1925, an English and a German service were conducted every Sunday morning with few exceptions, and most of the ministerial acts were performed in the English language. The present pastor has confirmed 373 children and every one in the English language; very few of the baptisms out of the total of 353 were other than English and only one marriage out of a total of 386 was in the German language.

At the public services of St. Paul's church Sunday the pastor made the announcement that from Sunday, February 21, 1943, on, all services will be conducted in the English language.

The announcement read as follows:

A Declaration
"These are serious and critical times both for our country and for our congregation. Our country is at war with Germany. Therefore those with a German background and those who use the German language are quite logically under suspicion. This is true of our congregation and some of its members. The time has come when we must clarify our position. The congregation has grappled with this problem without success. There is but one way in which this issue can be settled and that is by a decree or declaration from me, your pastor.

The bases for this declaration are: First: The constitution of our congregation permits the object of this declaration in view of the fact that the number of communicants at the German service has fallen below the number required by the constitution of the congregation, and second: The congregation has wrestled with this problem but has not been able to find an amicable solution and to press the matter further would cause greater discord and division among our members, and third: Three congregations of our synod heretofore using the German language have discontinued its use.

Therefore, I, as your pastor, do hereby declare that beginning Sunday, February 21, there will, for the duration plus nine months, be held in St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church of New Castle, Pa., no services in which the German language is used.

If the congregation is not agreed to this declaration in principle, it can by action appeal to the Pittsburgh synod through its president, the Rev. H. Reed Shepherd, D. D." (Signed) A. M. Stump, pastor. Dated January 17, 1943. At New Castle, Pa.

NEXT HEAD OF O.P.A. SURPRISED AT GAS RATION IN STOP HERE

against four for Eastern Ohio, Senator Brown said. "I was not acquainted with the fact that you got but three gallons per coupon in this area. I had supposed that I would get four gallons per coupon until I got to the mountains.

This question was asked the soon to be price czar, considering the fact that the refinery tanks in this area are full, and that some refineries may have to shut down unless they get rid of their huge stocks of gasoline, do you believe it is the policy of wisdom to continue the restrictions here, when Western Pennsylvania gasoline is being hauled to Ohio, where four gallons per coupon is permitted and no restriction upon driving?"

Calls For Thought
"That appears to be a question for a lot of thought," said he, "and I expect to devote some time to it. I would sooner make no comment now upon the wisdom of the policy that ordered the restrictions in this area."

The former United States senator from Michigan is comparatively young. A guess would place his years at about 50, no more. He served in the House of Representatives before going to the upper chamber. In the Senate he has been an ardent supporter of the policies of the president.

It was early for an interview, horribly early for a Sunday morning. As a matter of fact it was just seven thirty o'clock, but the time was set by Senator Brown for he wanted to be on his way to Washington by 8 o'clock. New Castle is not unknown to him for he has stopped in The Castleton at other times.

His confirmation by the United States Senate will undoubtedly come without any opposition. In a short time he will take over one of the most overgrown headaches of the entire government, that of price administration.

YOUTH INJURED
Harold Edwards, aged 19 years, of R. F. D. No. 3, Kittanning, employed in a local defense plant, was examined at the Jameson Memorial hospital, Saturday for possible injuries received when he strained himself while lifting a heavy weight. No apparent injuries were disclosed.

Dedications Honor Roll

Rev. Father Dante Delillo dedicated and blessed the honor roll and flag, and read the names of the 178 men honored. While addresses were made by Rev. Homer C. Davis, pastor of the Croton Avenue Methodist church, and Mrs. Carrie Jeffrey Roberts, former principal of the Croton school, and a life-long resident of that community. Guests, who included Judge W. Walter Braham, County Commissioner Joseph Travers, City Commissioner James Gibson, and Evan Evans and Charles E. Allen, World War veterans, were introduced by John R. Wilson of the committee on arrangements.

Beautiful solo numbers were rendered by Miss Ruth Drescher, teacher at the Croton school, and Peggy Ezzo.

Mrs. Mary Colalucia, Mrs. Jennie Jacobson, and Miss Goldie Blaine who secured the funds to purchase the memorials, were introduced. Two gold stars were pinned on the flag by Mrs. Colalucia and Mrs. Jacobson, representing Crescenzo DeMatteis and Alvie Cummings who have given their lives for their country, and Miss Ruth Lewis read excerpts from letters received by Crescenzo's parents from Capt. Gorman, and a comrade, telling of Crescenzo's heroic exploit which cost him his life.

NEW ADVANCE IS MADE BY BRITISH

Gen. Montgomery's forces on a road leading directly to Tripoli, 95 miles to the northwest.

Advance Continues

"The advance of our forces continued yesterday," the communique said.

"They occupied the Sedada Bir Tala area and followed up the enemy retreating to the northwest. By evening our forces were in contact with the enemy in the Taouga Bir-Dufan Beni Uld area, approximately 80 miles northwest of the Beurat position.

"In the course of these operations we took some prisoners."

The swift advance was made possible through a flanking thrust by Gen. Montgomery which skirted the Axis defenses at Wadi Zemzem, just west of Buerat, and forced Rommel to withdraw hurriedly to prevent a large portion of his men from being cut off.

British infantry followed close behind the armored forces which kept slashing at the heels of the retreating Axis units.

They encountered no serious resistance although there were frequent clashes with the enemy rear guard.

area as the Russians proceeded to wipe out the remnants of a one-time German force of 22 divisions which refused to surrender after being encircled.

One Red army unit slew 1,000 Nazis in the Stalingrad area during the night and captured 850 others, the high command said. Captured war material included 20 German planes, 38 tanks and 91 guns.

It was estimated that during the past 48 hours 3,000 Nazis either had been killed or captured in the Stalingrad area.

Nazi Defenses Crumbling

The rapidity with which the German defenses have begun to crumble was emphasized in a field dispatch which said that the entire Nazi garrison at Kortovak, 50 miles south of Voronezh, surrendered when the Russians recaptured the town.

A Soviet column following up the capture of the important rail junction of Millerovo on the Moscow-Rostov line battered its way forward through the northern Donetz river area to seize three more inhabited localities after occupying six yesterday. In this sector a battalion of German infantry was routed and 360 taken prisoner.

The drive on Kharkov was being pressed by a Russian army striking westward from below Voronezh. After capturing Rhexevka, 118 miles northeast of Kharkov, the Soviet high command said, this column continued to advance and occupied several additional localities.

"The whole garrison in one strongly fortified locality was practically wiped out," a communique said.

"On another sector 1,255 were captured."

Millerovo Captured
Several railway stations and several inhabited localities were re-occupied by the Soviet force driving northwestward toward Rostov through the northern Caucasus.

"Violent fighting is going on in the outskirts of a large inhabited locality," the high command said.

"Our forces have wiped out 430 of the enemy."

On still another sector of the Caucasus front a retreating company of Germans was wiped out. Capture of Millerovo, on the Moscow-Rostov line 130 miles north of Rostov, enabled the Russians to tighten their control of the railway and they were reported closing in rapidly on the town of Kamensk just above another important junction at Likhaya.

The Soviet high command issued a special communique disclosing the fall of Millerovo under virtual siege since Christmas eve, and the recapture of 25 other important towns and district centers along a 500-mile front in southern Russia.

The Nazi garrison at Millerovo was practically annihilated by the conquering Soviet troops when the Germans attempted to break out through the Red army encircling ring.

GOVERNOR MARTIN INAUGURAL TO BE SIMPLE CEREMONY

for combat duty, he retired from the army in February 1942 to run for governor on the Republican ticket.

Lt.-Gov.-elect John Cromwell Bell Jr. will be inducted into office at 10:30 a. m. in the senate chamber succeeding Lt. Gov. Samuel S. Lewis.

Public Reception

Martin and Bell, accompanied by their wives, will preside at a public reception in the rotunda of the main capitol building after the 35-minute-long inaugural ceremonies have been completed.

The huge crowds that attended other inaugurations are expected to be absent tomorrow because of the lack of hotel reservations, congested public transportation facilities and the ban on pleasure driving, although the O. P. A. has ruled that private cars may be used to attend the inaugural if no other transportation is available.

In the enclosed inaugural stand, when Martin takes the oath of office will be his wife, son and daughter; the new lieutenant governor and his wife, retiring governor and his wife, James, William J. James and Mrs. James, William J. Ridge, chief senate clerk, who will read Martin's certificate of election; Maj. Frank D. Scott, army chaplain, who will deliver the invocation and benediction; Chief Justice Maxey and Taylor.

On the surrounding platform, which will hold 2035 persons, will be seated Republican party leaders, Governor James' retiring cabinet, Martin's incoming cabinet, members of the state supreme and superior courts, U. S. Sen. James J. Davis, who opposed Martin in the primary election; U. S. Sen. Joseph F. Guffey and Brig. Gen. Charles H. Grahb of Des Moines, Ia., president of the U. S. Adjutant General's Association.

EXPAND PITTSBURGH HOME GUARD UNITS

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 18.—Home guard units, designed to protect vital utilities in event of an emergency, will be expanded to include five additional companies, the Allegheny county defense council announced.

The need for expansion was cited following the recent mock invasion of the county, officials said.

Passenger car transportation last year was six times all other methods, with railroads running a weak second.

Present Minute Flag To Employees Of Bus Company

Judge W. Walter Braham
Presents Flag Here On Saturday Afternoon

Employees of Shenango Valley Transportation Company were rewarded Saturday for their fine response to the government's appeal for purchase of war bonds through payroll deductions by the presentation to them of their Minute Man flag and certificate from the United States Treasury Department attesting that more than 90 per cent of all the employees are buying bonds in this manner.

The presentation was made at the company's garage in Taylor street Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock by Judge W. Walter Braham in behalf of the Lawrence County bond sales committee. Flag and certificate were received from him by a committee of the employees, representing both bus drivers and mechanics in behalf of all the employees. This committee comprises Fred Corsi, Robert Barron, Ford Rickel, W. A. Kyle, C. H. Perry and Steve Mamajek.

Present to congratulate the men on their fine showing were William H. Muldoon, vice president, and Thomas C. Moore, manager of the company.

Best Plan For Saving

In making the presentation Judge Braham thanked the men for their patriotic participation in bond buying and expressed his pleasure at the opportunity to present the emblem. He pointed out that there were three reasons why all Americans should join heartily in this plan. First he said that it was the best possible plan for saving, for having something laid aside for the future, and that the war bonds were the best and safest way to do this.

In the second place he said buying war bonds was protection for all of us against inflation. There is a good deal less to buy now, he said, such as automobiles and other articles made from critical materials. The government hopes to have the people buy bonds now and, when they come due, thus have the money to purchase the things not available at this time.

Lastly, he declared, the bond buying supplies the treasury with much of the money required to supply our men at the fighting fronts with the arms, ammunition and supplies to insure their victory.

Your Federal Income Tax

No. 13
ITEMS EXEMPT FROM TAX
In the instructions accompanying return Form 1040 are listed certain items which are specifically exempt from the income tax and need not be reported as income in the taxpayer's return. Among these are life insurance paid on the death of the insured. Amounts so received are nontaxable to the beneficiary. However, life insurance paid to a policy holder on the maturity of an endowment contract (not a death payment) represents income, which must be reported, to the extent that the amount received is greater than the premiums or consideration paid for the policy. Amounts received up to the amount of premiums or consideration paid for the policy are nontaxable.

In the case of annuities received either under annuity or endowment insurance, or under retirement funds or plans toward which the taxpayer has contributed or made payments, a portion of the annuity is considered as representing a return of the funds originally paid in, and is nontaxable, and the balance is taxable as income. The amount considered as income is an amount each year equal to 2 per cent of the total premiums, consideration, or payments made for the annuity. Amounts received in excess of 2 per cent of the total premiums, consideration, or payments made, are considered as return of principal and are nontaxable; however, when the total tax free amounts received equal the total premiums, consideration or payments made for the annuity, then the entire amount of each annuity payment is considered as income subsequently received and must be so reported.

There are also exempt from tax amounts received by gifts, bequest, and devise, but the income derived from any amounts or property so received is subject to the tax.

Interest on obligations of a State, Territory, or any political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia, or possessions of the United States, is exempt from tax and, also, the interest on obligations of the United States issued prior to March 1, 1941, to the extent provided in the Acts authorizing their issue. For the manner of reporting such interest the instructions accompanying the return should be consulted. The same applies to interest on obligations issued prior to March 1, 1941, of a corporation organized under an Act of Congress if such corporation is an instrumentality of the United States.

Amounts received through accident or health insurance or under workmen's compensation acts for personal injury or sickness, and damages received on account of such injuries or sickness, are tax exempt and need not be reported as income.

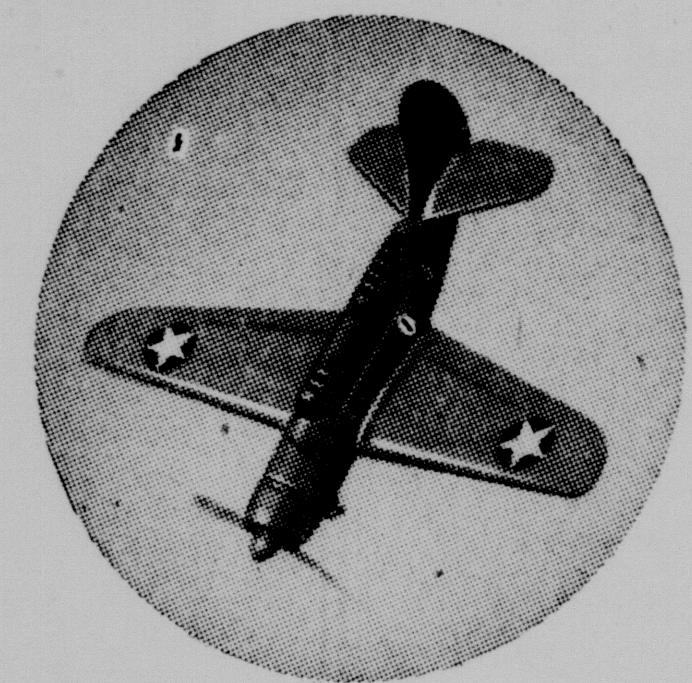

Pensions and compensation received by veterans from the United States for services in time of war are exempt, and pensions received from the United States by the family of a veteran for services rendered by the veteran in time of war are also exempt.

Amounts received as a pension, annuity, or similar allowance for personal injuries or sickness resulting from active service in the armed forces of any country are also exempt.

Also exempt and not required to be reported is the rental value of a dwelling house and furnishings provided a minister of the gospel as part of his compensation.

Persons in the military or naval service at the close of the taxable year, below commissioned grade, are exempt from tax on their compensation received for such service up to $250 in the case of a single person and $300 in the case of a married person.

TROUBLE FOR TOJO! It's the new Curtiss "Helldiver," the Navy's latest dive-bomber, designed to carry a bigger bomb-load, at higher speed, for greater distances than any naval dive-bomber in existence. And at the controls in this test dive, photographed below, is Barton T. Hulse, who learned his flying in the Navy...smokes the Navy man's favorite—Camel.

THEY can look terrific on paper. They can meet the most exacting laboratory tests on the ground. But the final proving ground of an airplane is when you fly it.

It's the same with cigarettes. The final test of any brand is in the smoking.

Test pilot "Red" Hulse (right) and countless other smokers could tell you mighty convincing things about Camels and their remarkable mildness and flavor, but your own throat and taste...your own "T-Zone" ...can tell you even more convincingly why Camels are such a favorite on the front line—and on the home front.

NOTICE TO ALL WARDENS

After a blackout, report back to the post and give a report on things that should be reported to the post senior warden. This also works as a second check on active wardens, fire watchers and messengers on duty for the blackout. The senior warden of a section is the agent responsible for reports to the O. C. D. A sample of this report form is found on page 17 of warden's manual. This form should be followed.

NO ONE "ON INSIDE"

The prophets are still trying to make people believe they are on the inside track with the authorities who say when the state is to have a blackout. Most of them predict that we will have a blackout to-night or the next few nights, then when it does come they stand out with "I told you so." They have no way of knowing this and are only making a guess.

YOU ARE RESPONSIBLE!

All persons who have blackout switches are charged with the responsibility of testing this switch equipment, to make sure it will work when needed. The fact you have a switch and it cannot be operated when needed puts you in the same class as the fellow who has no switch and leaves lights on during a blackout.

THANKS, CHURCH WARDENS

O. C. D. personnel wants to thank and compliment the people of the First Methodist church, North Jefferson street, for the manner in which they conducted the meeting in the church during the blackout January 14. This blackout came while an O. C. D. meeting was in progress, and the different wardens had a chance to observe the procedure used in this church to comply with blackout regulations.

LIST OF MEETINGS

City O. C. D. headquarters today announced meetings for classes in warden, fire-watching and messenger service. In regard to the City Hall classes, it was announced that those persons who cannot attend the Tuesday night class can do so Wednesday morning. Tuesday, second, third and Fourth wards, at City Hall, third floor, 7:30 p. m. Fourth ward at Sampson street post, eight p. m. Wednesday, seventh ward, at 926 North Cedar street, at 7:30 p. m. Third ward at Knoblock residence, 737 Chestnut street, at eight p. m. Daylight class, third floor, City Hall, at 10 a. m. All persons in the city who cannot attend a night class may attend this class.

Thursday, fifth and eighth wards, at Lincoln-Garfield school at 7:30 p. m. second ward at No. 2 fire station, Park avenue, at 7:30 p. m. and first ward in St. Mary's church basement at 7:30 p. m.

St. Paul's Has Many In Service

The service honor roll of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church, North Jefferson and Grant streets, the Rev. A. M. Stump, pastor, shows a total to date of 56 names, including one registered nurse. This is more than 10 per cent of the communicant membership roll.

The striking things about this are the facts that about half of the total are enlistments and that over half of the total number have advanced to the various grades of officers in all of the branches of the service.

TAX RATE THE SAME

There will be no change in the county tax rate for 1943, over 1942, William R. Walton, president of the Board of County Commissioners, stated Saturday. The 1943 rate will be total of three mills, 2½ of which are for general purposes and one half mill for institutional purposes. The two budgets are practically complete and in a day or two will be placed upon public view. They will remain on public view for twenty days after which the budgets will be adopted and the tax levy formally set.

The two budgets show a substantial cash balance at the end of 1942 but it is the opinion of Mr. Walton that it is better to have a few more dollars in the bank than the county actually needs, than to have to borrow before taxes start coming in.

The total estimated revenues for the general fund, for the year 1943 are $559,917.89. This includes $28,317.89 cash balance to start the year with. The tax receipts from property are estimated at a net of $123,500. The county total assessed valuation is $61,750,000 which at 2½ mills shows $154,375. Twenty per cent of this is estimated will not be collected within the current year which leaves the net shown.

Occupational tax receipts are estimated at a net of $8350. This is based upon an occupational assessment of $14,750,000 at 2½ mills, less 20 per cent.

The return from the four mill personal property tax is estimated at a net of $50,400 which represents personal property assessed values of $14,000,000 at four mills, less the estimated twenty per cent uncollected at the end of the year.

For the institutional budget the cash in bank is $162,834.11. The tax levy of one half mill will bring an estimated net of $24,700.

ANNUAL REPORT IN

County Controller Frank W. Hill has completed his 1942 financial report and has placed it in the hands of the court for approval. In a short time it will be printed and you can see for yourself just what was done with your money in 1942.

MILEAGE UNCHANGED

After considering the request of various attaches of the court house who receive mileage for the use of their cars for a raise from 6 cents per mile the county commissioners have refused the request.

The County of Lawrence has asked for a new trial in the case brought by Frank Servedia of Hickory township, in which Servedia got a verdict of some $2500 for damages to his farm when a new highway was put through. The county believes the verdict too much.

TO PRESS ACTION ON 48-HOUR WEEK

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Sen. Clyde M. Reed (R) Kans., said on Saturday he will press for action soon on his pending bill calling for a 48-hour week in industry. Reed's bill was introduced last week and, contrary to usual procedure of having it referred to a committee, he asked that it lie on the table, an unusual request. "I don't want the Senate education and labor committee to get its clutches on the bill," Reed said.

RAISE TIPSTAVES

An increase in wages has been granted to the tipstaves of the court house. Formerly they got $4 per day. They will receive $6. They get paid only for the days they work when court is on.

DOG LICENSES

The dog license market was heavy in Ellwood City Friday when County Treasurer Earl R. Wimer and two of his staff went down to serve the folks of that place. In all, 562 licenses were issued of which 152 were for female dogs. In New Castle same day 263 licenses were issued. The total now is over 2000.

There are over 10,000 dogs in Lawrence county according to figures of the license department for 1942. All dog owners who have not licensed their pooches are now subject to arrest. The dead line is past and information may be issued at any time.

Frequently one hears discussion about some things that are not mentioned in the newspaper, concerning the war effort in this area. When such things are not mentioned in the newspapers, it is a signal to all persons not to discuss them publicly, because war-time censorship regulations prevent publication.

Motorman Dies In Trolley Crash; 24 Others Hurt

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 18.—One motorman was burned to death and at least 24 passengers, including a dozen school children, were injured today when two heavy interurban street cars crashed head-on in a thick fog and caught fire near Brookside farms in suburban Pittsburgh.

The body of the motorman, Herbert R. Frazier, 55, of R. D. 4, Washington, (Pa.), was found near the controls of his car after the flames had left the two heavy trolleys only charred steel frames. The cars virtually telescoped each other in the crash.

Of the 25 passengers on Frazier's car, outboud to nearby Washington, and the 43 on the Pittsburgh-bound car operated by Harry Short, of Castle Shannon, at least four were seriously injured. The others suffered cuts and bruises and shock.

eyelids. Besides, Spanish America is 99-and-a-fraction the other way. This simmers it down to Germany and Japan.

How long it'll take home-staying Germany to civilize itself is a question of guesswork.

Assistant State Secretary Berle evidently surmises that it can be done.

A Generation

It clearly will be a slow process, though. Berle concedes that it'll require a generation.

Meantime this process of policing will have to be in progress.

Is that going to make for a peaceful world?

Yet, what are we going to do about it?

If we fail, says Berle, a damnsight worse situation is ahead. Well, if we win, the question is: Does that end the danger?

Or merely stall it off?

THIS world! Heck!

I speak as an ordinary newspaperman, but kinda religiously. We'll have this same sort of a discussion going on at the National Press club in 2043, just as today.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

faults and errors and shortcomings of any members seldom can be wholesome.

There is something this prone-to-muddle brother and sister might do to help the "erring" one. She or he might, after sufficient self-discipline at minding his or her own business, try harder to be unselfish and to understand the other, playing up (his or her) strengths and successes.

Parents also might help by trying to guide the more "acceptable child" in these directions, and induce him to work on himself to see values and improve in ways where he himself is lacking. Furthermore, these parents need to look more for the strengths and successes in the "erring" child, more often celebrate his successes.

Solving Parent Problems
Q. We have two children, a boy seven and a girl nine. Do you think we should train the boy to do the dishes and other housework jobs? My husband and I wish you would give us some concrete suggestions on how to train both these children in helping at home. We believe this training very necessary for their best character education. I am enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three cent stamp on it for your reply.

A. Of course boys should help in the house. It was thoughtful of you to enclose the postage and self-addressed envelope. In it I am glad to send you my special bulletin, "How To Teach Child To Help at Home." I hope it aids you parents to make good home citizens of your children.

The World and the Mud Puddles

Why, we have heard of lawyer-politicians shouting "I was once a mill boy" as if ceasing to be a mill boy was escaping from degrading occupation and climbing into the ranks of the nobility.

The political attorneys do not say that they are the nobility, but the country boys vote for them and count them as superior creatures. Outside of the backward states hand-workers are coming into their own.

insisted that this was not so; that the charge was unfounded and those who made it were "malicious critics." But, here the charge is reiterated by representatives of some 75,000 of these Federal employees, themselves; made in their official publication and signed by their chosen leaders. In other words, the charge is now made by the men who are in the best possible position to have the facts and whose motives cannot be questioned. If they do not know the truth, then no one knows it. It is difficult to think of any reason for them not to tell the truth.

THIS, IT is submitted, is about as complete vindication and support for those, in Congress and out, who have been fighting against Governmental waste and padded pay rolls, as could be imagined. It seems to prove their case to the hilt and leave no excuse for failure to correct a concededly bad situation. But, the attitude of the farm leaders is even more significant from the political standpoint. It will be recalled that in the 1936 campaign the basic political strategy of the New Deal was to form a voting alliance between the farmers and the industrial laborers which would dominate the nation politically and relegate industry and business to the rear.

IT WAS NOT until last November that the farmers seemed to shake off the hypnotic influence of the New Deal and regain their political reasoning powers. Certainly it is true that the largest Republican gains in the last election were made in the agricultural states. The present clash on legislative program between the labor leaders and the farm leaders opens up interesting possibilities for the new Congress. In the past, the farm and labor loobies, working together and both with administration support, have been irresistible. Congress simply has been unable to stand up against their combined weight.

IN THIS session, with the lobbies divided and the Administration supporting only the labor program, there is a chance for Congress to reassert its independence and act in the matters for the good of the nation as a whole instead of at the expense of special groups at the expense of the rest of us. The public danger, of course, is that, realizing this, the farm and labor lobbies will make a deal and again put combined pressure on Congress for their joint programs.

IF THAT happens and Congress yields, the effect upon the war effort will be bad. If the farmers succeed in bursting the price ceilings on food products, the whole price level will be raised and the trend toward inflation greatly accelerated. That is the President's sound reason for opposition. On the labor side, if Congress permits the forty-hour week and the closed shop to be lived upon us, then all hope for a sensible solution of the manpower shortage will disappear. There are two things to hope—first, that the two lobbies do not get together; second, that if they do, the new Congress will develop a sufficient degree of strength to resist their demands.

Police Seek Killer Of War Worker In Columbus; Wife Missing From Home

(International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 18.—Police today searched for the killer of Guy Benoit Fowler, 47, whose body was found last night wrapped in blood stained towels and bed clothing and stuffed into a cedar chest he had given his wife for Christmas. Coroner Edward Smith, after first believing that Fowler had been bludgeoned to death, found shotgun pellets in the skull upon closer examination. No gun or other weapon has been found.

Ironically enough, the slogan, "A lifetime of happiness," was stamped on the lid of the cedar chest. Police and deputy sheriffs meanwhile were searching for the man's missing wife, Norma Bates Fowler. A search of the house revealed that all her clothing and personal belongings were gone, police said. War workers, each owned a car. Both automobiles were at home, hers parked in the driveway and the husband's in the garage.

NEW ORDERS ON BREAD ISSUED

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Bread went to war today.
By order of Food Administrator Wickard, from now on: White bread must be enriched, no bread or rolls sold to individual consumers may be sliced, and consignment selling of bread and fancy baking methods are out.

These instructions were embodied in Wickard's first action after taking office as the nation's food czar. The staff of life, he decreed in food distribution order No. 1, must be healthful and ought not to rise in price.

Thus, the purpose of the enrichment ruling is to make white bread as rich as natural whole wheat bread by restoring to white bread the minerals taken out of it in the milling process.

Britain and Nazi-ruled Europe have been forced to abolish white bread in favor of whole wheat loafs. The food administration hopes to keep the price of bread down by ending slicing, consignment selling, use of more than one thickness of wrapping paper, cross panning and twisting in baking, introduction of more varieties of bread than were used by individual bakers in the first week of December, 1942.

DENOUNCES COAL STRIKE AS TREASON

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The House today heard the Pennsylvania coal strike denounced as "treason" and a demand for the department of justice "to prosecute the labor leaders responsible for it."

Taking the floor as soon as the House convened, Rep. Andrew (R., Minn.) called for immediate action, adding:
"If our public officials in charge of law enforcement refuse to prosecute individuals and leaders responsible for illegal strikes and racketeering in essential industries, it is about time for Congress to begin a few necessary impeachment proceedings."

U. S. PLANES IN FIVE ATTACKS ON JAP ISLAND BASES

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The Navy announced today that American Army and Navy planes carried out five attacks against Japanese bases in the central and northern Solomons while American ground forces on Guadalcanal continued to mop up pockets of enemy resistance, killing about 150 Japs and taking some prisoners.

The new regulations will be effective March 1 in the Boston Archdiocese.

Mother Plunges to Death

When this photo was taken last September, Mrs. Lorraine Aldinger, 28, of Oakland, Cal., was extremely happy with her triplets. Last month one of the children suffocated in her crib. Another died a few days ago as a result of a fall in her mother's arms. A day later, the young mother plunged to death from the 11th floor of an office building in Oakland.

Launch Aircraft Carrier Today

"Cowpens" Is Sponsored By Halsey's Daughter; Liberty Ship "Lou Gehrig" Also Christened

(International News Service)
CAMDEN, N. J., Jan. 18.—The aircraft carrier Cowpens today was the latest "flat top" to join Uncle Sam's rapidly expanding navy and also the fourth carrier to be launched during the last 141 days by the New York Shipbuilding Corporation.

Mrs. Preston Lee Spurgeon of Greenville, Del., daughter of Admiral William F. Halsey, Jr., commander-in-chief of the naval forces in the southwest Pacific, sponsored the craft. Mrs. Ludlow Elliman of Wilmington, Del., was the matron of honor. Her husband, Lieutenant Elliman, U. S. N. R., is attached to the admiral's fleet.

The Cowpens was converted from a 10,000-ton cruiser past way thru construction as the demand for air power increased.

"Lou Gehrig" Christened
South Portland, Me., Jan. 18.—"The finest tribute ever paid my son," was the comment today of Mrs. Christine Gehrig, after sponsoring the 10,500-ton liberty ship "Lou Gehrig."

Mrs. Gehrig smashed a bottle of champagne, lashed to a baseball bat, on the prow of the vessel as it slipped into the water from the ways of the South Portland Shipbuilding Corporation Sunday.

The ship was named in honor of the late first baseman of the New York Yankee baseball team.

Williams Named 'Player Of Year' New Wilmington Faces Bessemer On Tuesday Night

NEW YORK WRITERS WILL PRESENT PLAQUE TO SWAT KING FEB. 7

Meritorious Service Award
In Name Of Late Singer,
INS Writer

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Ted Williams, the Boston Red Sox outfielder who for the past two years annexed the American league batting championship, was today selected for another award, by being named by the New York chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association for their annual plaque as "player of the year."

The long hitting left hander participated in 150 games and drove in 137 runs while amassing a 356 batting mark. He received 145 bases on balls and struck out 51 times. He scored 141 runs and batted 36 homers during the last campaign.

Award Surprise
In view of the fact that many writers claim Williams is not a "team player," the award is somewhat of a surprise to many quarters. During the season, Manager Joe Cronin fined Ted for reportedly "not trying."

In addition, the chapter announced the award for meritorious service to baseball over a long period will be presented for this year only, in the name of Jack Singer, International News Service war correspondent and former sports writer, who died in the sinking of the aircraft carrier Wasp.

Sid Mercer of the New York Journal-American has been selected for the Jack Singer memorial plaque and is the second baseball writer in the 14-year history of the award to be so honored.

Presentation of both plaques will take place at the 20th annual association dinner, Feb. 7.

'Canes - Bridgers Play On Tuesday

Sectional Skirmish On
George Washington Junior High Floor

VISITORS RATED
TOPS IN LOOP

Ambidge, selected by many WPAL experts to win the crown, displays its wizardry here on Tuesday night, battling New Castle high on George Washington floor.

The "Bridgers," currently setting a merry pace in Section III, are listed as having mobility, poise, a scoring eye and a defense as tight as two 200-pounders jammed in a telephone booth.

Ambidge teed off with an easy triumph over New Brighton, and then polished off Ellwood City, passing the 50-point mark on both occasions.

The Canes, defeated in their last five scrambles, must win or wave farewell to the sectional banner which they copied last season.

Coach Bridenbaugh is trying everything in the hope of hitting the right combination. In reviewing the losses, the mentor points out that his proteges have not mastered the usual effective sliding zone.

"Offensively, there seems to be a lid on top of the opposing basket," the tutor said jokingly.

On the basis of showings thus far, the outlook is gloomy for the locals.

(Special To The News)
HIRAM, Ohio, Jan. 18.—Westminster college's Titans, displaying too much court savvy, easily drubbed a willing Hiram aggregation, 60-28, here on Saturday night.

As soon as the opening whistle sounded, the New Wilmington passers started their parade of field goals. By the close of the first, the Lawrence countians held a comfortable 22-6 edge.

With all hands contributing to the scoring, the Westminsterites bolstered the margin as the clash progressed.

Captain Fred Miller, operating from his guard post, paced the Titans with 10 markers while Charles Rice, Hiram forward, swished more than half of his team's points.

Ed. Powers, Eagles' Hockey Pilot, Dies
(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The New Haven Eagles, of the American Hockey league, received a double setback yesterday. Just three hours before they were to play their last game in not only the season but the league, they received notice their coach, Eddie Powers, died on the street of a heart attack.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Monday wash:

New Wilmington high's greatest athlete—Paul "Lefty" Minner—soon joins Uncle Sam's squad. The lanky cage-baseball sensation told me the other night that he's in 1-A and awaiting word to shove off any day now.

Ben Franklin's high riding quintet has lost the services of one of its mainstays. The athlete, Al Koszela, Corporal "Cash" Koszela's brother, incidentally, recently fell and suffered a painful knee injury. His comeback date is a question mark.

Henry Dugan, Slovak baseball star, heads for the army ranks Tuesday. . . . Don Heddeson, good looking Westminster freshman, may not run out his stunts. The East Liverpool ace is in the Naval Reserves and may be called at any time.

In the event you missed the item, First Lieut. Clyde S. Uber, former Thiel grider, has been decorated in the Middle East. The local athlete was among the guys on our side who dropped a few eggs on Mussolini's Naples.

While other schools are scratching games to the left and to the right, Grove City will carry on. Athletic Director R. E. Thorn announces that, now that the transportation ruling has been clarified, the Groves will play all their road games.

If there's a shortage of ski equipment, please don't forget that the Dodgers will train at Bear Mountain, eastern skiing center. The Bums greeted the announcement by rushing like a lot of bargain basement women to ski stores. By the time the Bums report there won't be any ski trails, you say. What's a ski trail to the Dodgers?

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Perhaps Branch Rickey is not going to be so bad after all as the new head of the Brooklyn baseball club, the well-known subsidiary of the butt-of-all-baseball-jokes association. Mr. Rickey has selected Bear Mountain, New York's nearest skiing center, for the Dodgers' spring training camp. It isn't difficult to picture what will happen when some of our mountain-sliders from Times Square soar into space with an oh-le-oh-lay-de-ho and wind-up in a six-mark on something, in the middle of a Dodger workout on the ball field at the base of the takeoff.

That could be aggravating. If they still are skiing around there along about the middle of March, and who says they won't be. All our skiers need is the vaguest forecast of snow to pack up their bales of lumber, put on fur-bearing clothing peculiar to the breed and head for Bear Mountain. Most of them seem to take off merely by closing their eyes and falling into space, never caring for a moment where or how they land.

The first time one of them plops down into the middle of a baseball workout at the base of the hill, one of two things will happen. If its able-bodied its liable to be drafted immediately to play the outfield, or without waiting to find out the state of its health the Dodgers are likely to pounce upon it with bats and remove permanently from the landscape another skier.

Meantime, the Dodgers have no assurance whatever that some of them won't be killed by falling skiers. Things are bad enough as it is with 15 of Rickey's men lost and no replacements coming up without getting any of them knocked off in spring training.

I wonder if Dolph Camilli or Bill Terry still could be interested in succeeding Leo Durocher as manager of the club after learning of Mr. Rickey's decision on the training site.

One of them seems likely to become the new pilot if Durocher is inducted as now seems certain, but this latest development in future plans might make the man offered the job think twice before accepting. It is no cinch getting ball players into shape even in the sunshine of

RIFLE MATCH TONIGHT
New Castle Rifle club will stage another interstate "postal match" tonight at 7:30 o'clock at The Cathedral range, it was announced today.

JONES IS STILL A HOT LINKSMAN
MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 18.—Active duty in the United States Army Air Corps apparently hasn't affected the golf game of Capt. Robert T. Jones, better known as Bob Jones, the retired former grand slam links king—it was indicated today.

Jones clipped five strokes off regulation figures yesterday while playing the Indian Creek course at Miami Beach for the first time. He posted a sizzling 67, while playing with strange clubs.

MEMO FOR:— Quo H. Pfam
SUBJECT:— BASEBALL WRITING BECOMES DAM' NUISANCE

LIFE NOWDAYS is really very simple, once you refuse to be misled by its miscellaneous antics. All that's required, in fact, is that you master the principle of the upside-down stomach. Then you stand on your head and, after that, everything is all right. In this way, you can account for virtually anything, including the fact that major league clubs are now going north for their southern training, they put Japs in Santa Anita instead of San Quentin, people are paid a salary for going to college and a capitalist is anybody who doesn't eat his lunch out of a tray.

Yes, and even a baseball writer is different, which is to say that he is now just like anybody. No longer will he gamely undergo the rigors and privations of fresh air and sunshine, nor will he come to his typewriter all tucked out from a hard day at a nearby floor show.

He'll freeze when he must eat and eat when he can, including the chef's special, better known as fried file of horse filly, and doubtless will be none the worse for the ordeal. Indeed, Mr. Branch Rickey, of Brooklyn, who is all for uplift, is certain that he'll be improved. Mr. Rickey's first act upon taking office was to disperse with the Ebbets Field press bar where MacPhail and the boys were wont to get together.

Mr. R. doesn't approve of that, for several reasons. But the main one was that it took so much trouble to get them separated afterward.

And that was really very simple, too. The complicated part was in trying to separate them.

The Titans biggest threat was Jim Rush, Connellsville freshman, who broke the old pool art team record in the 60 and 100 yards free style dash event with his time of 30.6 and 55.9 seconds, respectively. Jack Scheid, Brackenridge sophomore, bettered the old 200-yard breast stroke mark in 2:36.4.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Remember the young colored chap who had the rim of his ear knocked off by Ross Figgins of Wierton, W. Va., in the Jolly bowl some years ago? A local surgeon sewed the rim back and the colored lad went on to win the featherweight championship of the N.B.A. while Figgins later went into oblivion. Tonight this lad, Jackie Wilson is to defend the title against Canadian Callura. The Pittsburgher is a 10 to eight favorite to win.

Milton Simington, 24-year-old guard of the 1942 Pittsburgh Steelers died suddenly of a heart ailment at Shreveport, La. . . . Ted Williams of the Red Sox will be named the "player of the year" at a Baseball Writers banquet in New York, February 4.

Coach Edward Powers of the New Haven Eagles, American League hockey team, died suddenly at New Haven yesterday. . . . Red Friesell, formerly of the nation's outstanding football officials has joined the army as a lieutenant-colonel and will report at Arlington, Friday.

Defeat of Jackie Wilson of California by Jake LaMotta was a surprise to most. Jake had a 16-pounds advantage over Jackie who in western appearances prior to joining the army looked like a sure welterweight champion.

Pittsburgh center of the Racing Pigeon association, has promised to supply the U. S. army with 3,200 young birds in April and May it was announced yesterday. At the meeting in Pittsburgh, G. Paul Coultas was elected president, of the Pittsburgh center.

Years ago in New Castle there were a number of pigeon racing enthusiasts. Usually birds were shipped during the fog end of the week and liberated at distant spots and clocked into their coops on Sunday. The sport apparently died out here.

Southwest District Sportsman's association met yesterday in Pittsburgh and named Robert S. Cooper of Connellsville as president. The association includes the counties of Allegheny, Washington, Westmoreland, Somerset, Beaver and Indiana.

Lured by the thrill of pounding the boards and the shout of the crowd, veteran Gene Venzke will step out of a brief retirement next month. Is wearing hob-nailed shoes and training over frozen roads near Reading, Pa., for the Millrose, New York, races.

The third top team, Wampum high, journeys to East Brook. The Henmonmen, ranked next to Bessemer, sport a glittering 11 out of 12 victory list.

Like every opponent that has faced Wampum, the Brookers will try to stop the unstoppable Coy "Spring" Craine, human basketball adding machine. The colored center's scoring column shows 238 markers.

While the Brookers could upset the highly touted "Indians," since they are feared by all on the East Brook wooden way, it does not seem possible that they will be able to cope with Craine's keen eyes and a wealth of passing talent and an effective defense.

Shenango Township, practically out of the race as a result of three setbacks, and Mt. Jackson, eliminated, too, settle their differences on Shenango floor.

Union Township enjoyed a much needed rest.

Main Library Books Available Through Branches To Patrons

New borrowers at one of the three branches of the public library also have available to them all the books in the main library. The number of volumes on hand at the branch libraries is necessarily small, but any book available at the main library may be procured at the branches for the asking.

The reply to a request for White's "They Were Expendable" may be, "We don't have a copy here now, but if it's in at the main library I'll bring it for you the next branch day." The borrower returns the next branch day for the book he wants to read, or a report on it. If all copies are out in circulation, the borrower will leave a reserve postal card, which will be sent to him as soon as the book comes in. And the branch librarian will take it to the branch, where he may get it the following day. Miss Sarah Mervis is branch librarian.

East Side branch, 1401 East Washington street, is open Tuesday and Friday from 12:30 to nine p. m. Mahoningtown branch, 4 East Madison avenue, is open Monday and Thursday, also from 12:30 to nine p. m.

South Side branch, 1212 South Mill street, is open Wednesday from 12:30 to nine; Saturday from nine a. m. to six p. m.

Borrowers may save steps and gasoline by getting their books from the branch nearest their homes.

Governor James To Leave Capital For Native City

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 18. — A shingle reading "Arthur H. James, Attorney-At-Law," glinted today at 112 Church street, Plymouth, awaiting Pennsylvania's outgoing chief executive after he turns over the affairs of state tomorrow to Governor-Elect Edward Martin.

Planning to leave for his native city immediately after his successor's inauguration, the governor appeared happy as he neared completion of four years in office.

"I feel as good as when I came into office, if not better," he commented recently. His administration, dedicated to "efficiency and economy," was leaving office with the state treasury "in the black," for the first time in more than a decade. According to the governor, the legislature will now be able to reduce taxes by at least $50,000,000 whereas when he came into office he "found a house of government littered with the debris of four years of blunders, extravagance and political misrule."

Ginger Rogers Is Bride Third Time

Marries Marine After 24-Hour Engagement; Ceremony In Pasadena At 1 A. M.

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 18. — Ginger Rogers, got her first short vacation from picture making in a month Saturday — and immediately she became a bride for the third time.

Only 24 hours after announcement of her engagement to Jack Briggs, handsome young Marine, they went to the altar.

The ceremony was performed at 1 a. m. in the First Methodist church of Pasadena, by the Rev. Dr. Edwin Day. There were no attendants.

The double ring ceremony was used. Miss Rogers was clad in a brown ensemble and wore an orchid. Immediately after the ceremony, Miss Rogers and her husband went to the star's Beverly Hills home where they were greeted by Ginger's mother, Mrs. Lela Rogers, and Briggs' mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kapz.

Their honeymoon will be short. Miss Rogers has only three days leave from Paramount, where she is starring in "Lady in the Dark." Briggs must return to the San Diego Marine base on Tuesday.

He arrived in Los Angeles last night for the ceremony after playing in a radio show at the base.

Briggs, 22, is a former stage and screen actor. He met Miss Rogers in San Diego six months ago when she was there on a bond selling tour.

Miss Rogers, who is 31, has been married twice before. Her first husband was Jack Pepper of vaudeville. She divorced Lou Ayres, former screen star now in the Army Medical Corps, two years ago.

Blessed are those who got bonds for Christmas. They needn't hide the things until visited by the relative who gave them.

TOMATOES

It seems rather strange that in one short lifetime public sentiment should change so much. Some of our old people remember when tomatoes were called love apples and were considered poisonous.

They were grown in the garden because they were pretty. Perhaps people noticed that the chickens ate them without harm. Perhaps the chickens ate them because they looked good. Anyway, they have become a very important article of food.

Tomatoes are very rich in vitamins. Cooking and canning does not destroy them. Tomato juice supplies the vitamins in a very acceptable form.

Tomatoes come in handy for people who are too fat or who have diabetes. There is practically no nourishment in a tomato. Diabetics can eat them without danger. Fat people can eat them when they get hungry. They satisfy without adding any weight. If a fat person feels hungry, a can of tomatoes can be opened and eaten either cold or hot. They are very filling and keep hunger away for a good while. Raw tomatoes are fine for salads. They look good. Some people like them with milk and sugar.

Perhaps it would be a good idea to figure on planting a few in the yard. They need lots of sun. A couple of good strong plants would keep the table supplied all summer.

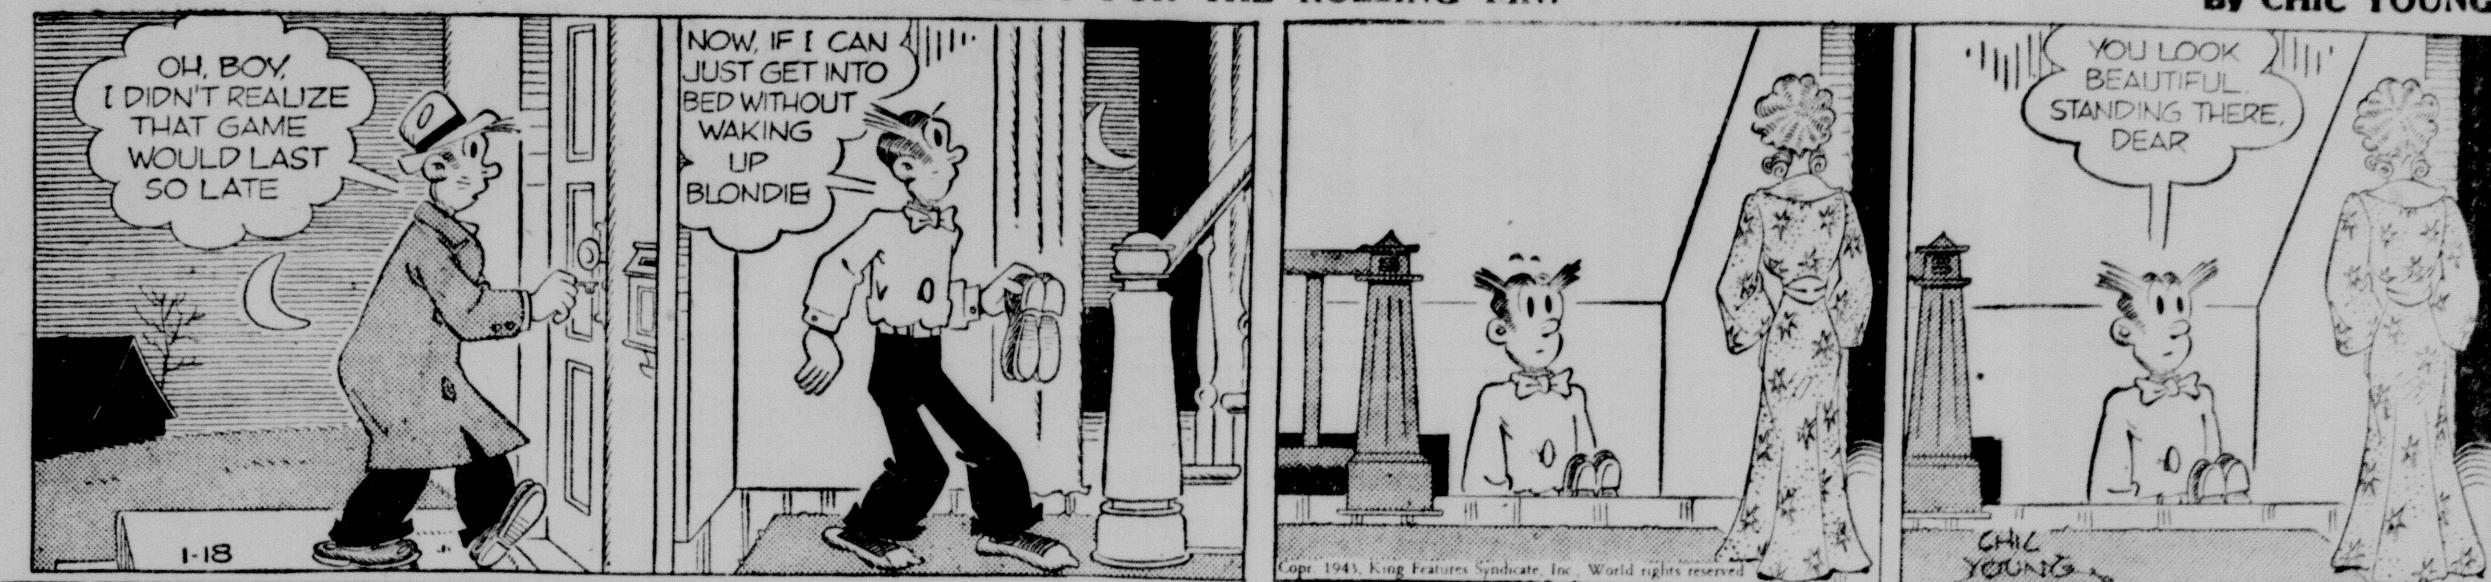

Through the courtesy of Matt Hornung, Wednesday, January 20, we will be able to take a trip through the pottery via pictures which will be given by John Ailes, salesman of the Shenango Pottery company's Pittsburgh offices. Character night will be observed by the Rochester, Pa., club on February 1. This club will be known as the Lower Valley club.

Recorded

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The stock market moved in a narrow and mixed range today. Price changes rarely were out of the fractional rub. A few shares, however, managed to reach new highs for the year.

Up slightly around noon were stocks like General Electric, Deere & Co., J. I. Case and Reynolds Tobacco B. all at new 1942-43 highs. In addition minor improvement was shown by Allied Chemical, Montgomery Ward, Santa Fe, Consolidated Edison, Western Union, and American Can. The last was up a point.

American Airlines was a soft spot, slumping a point to 54 1/2. Other losers included Chrysler, General Motors, Bethlehem, Texas Co., Pennsylvania R. R., Westinghouse, Union Carbide and United Air Lines.

U. S. Steel held about unchanged as did numerous other shares.

Baccalaureate
Held On Sunday

Dr. W. E. Minter Makes
Address To Ellwood
High Graduates

COMMENCEMENT ON TUESDAY NIGHT

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 18.—"Aim at nothing and you'll hit it," Dr. W. E. Minter, pastor of the First U. P. church, told graduates of the January class of the Ellwood City high school in an effective baccalaureate sermon last night at Lincoln auditorium. The large auditorium was well filled with parents and friends of the graduating seniors.

Based on the familiar story of David and Goliath, the sermon text was taken from the 50th verse of first Samuel, being "So David prevailed over the Philistines with a sling and with a stone." Every person is seeking for success, the speaker pointed out, and there are two kinds, life-long and eternal long. If you possess only wealth and honor, success is life-long.

Four things made David successful, first, he used his individuality, or making use of what he had; second, he had a definite target; third, he put his best into his work; and finally, he carried out the divine will.

Under individuality, the minister emphasized the importance of knowing one's ability in choosing a life work. Every work leaves its mark upon you, good or bad and your aim will be just as successful as it serves God and men. No worthwhile thing has ever been done except by those that endured hardship, failures and never achieve any goal without trying. God has a plan for every life, the speaker declared, and urged the group to seek that plan, if they would find eternity-long success.

Material things are accepted as the important items today with men paying little attention to God in a world of discord and hate.

Biblical and historical events show that great men, Noah, Abraham, David, Moses, Wellington, Lincoln, have been ready to lead men in times of great emergency, and there has never been a greater opportunity or responsibility than today to lift the world nearer to God, said the speaker.

Dr. A. M. Stevenson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, presided. Rev. H. F. Loch, pastor of the Immanuel Reformed church, read the scripture and prayer was offered by Rev. Paul Nye, Providence Baptist pastor.

Under the direction of Miss Mary Jane Thompson, the Girls' Glee club sang "O Glorious Redeemer." The closing benediction was offered by Rev. James Gladden, First Methodist minister.

The collapse of the six-story structure, recently vacated by the Simmons Bedding Manufacturing Co., was the only thing that saved the entire area, Deputy Chief Engineer William Summler said. The blaze was the fifth multi-alarm fire of the year in Philadelphia.
